Enhanced living through

English as a Second Language

People from 18 different countries have been a part of an English as a Second Language group at Chestnut Hill Baptist Church in Lynchburg, Virginia. These are folks without a church background and need English to survive in America. Sirinya King was one of the first students to accept Jesus Christ as her Lord and Savior and be baptized. Jim and Jamie Pittman are ESL teachers that helped establish the International Fellowship in the basement of the church. Your generosity helps support ministries like this one and others across Virginia.
