“The official said to him, ‘Sir, come down before my child dies.’ Jesus said to him, ‘Go; your son will live.’ The man believed the word that Jesus spoke to him and went on his way.” — John 4:49-50

The Roman official in John 4 travelled across social and political lines to beg for Jesus to help his dying son. He had nowhere else to go and had no idea what else to do.

There have been several key times in my own life that I felt just like this official. I was in a place of desperation and confusion. But, I found that it is in those moments that God wants to work in profound ways not only for His glory but for our good.

Are we desperate for God to work? We must let go of pride, self-focus, our feelings of our own strengths and weaknesses, and simply cling to God. He is the only one who can really help.
